

NATIONAL GALLERY at 200 ILLUSTRATED TALK BY RAY WARBURTON

Thursday 5 December at 9.30

Cost £10

OPTION 1 – TALK ONLY

15 Top Treasures of the National Gallery – Explored and Explained

In this timely and fascinating celebration of the 200th anniversary of the National Gallery, Ray Warburton will give an hour's lecture on 15 of the National Gallery's most popular paintings, plus a brief account of the founding of this establishment.

Ten of the 15 paintings were voted for by the general public and expert panels in various polls over the last 20 years. Any ideas on which painting came out on top? Four of the paintings were voted for by members of The Arts Society Blackheath over the summer. The final painting to be discussed will be a Rembrandt self-portrait. It is acknowledged as one of the National Gallery's timeless treasures.

The lecture will take place in the Old Bakehouse Theatre behind Age Concern at 9.30. Tea & Coffee are included.

If you cannot come on the day, please contact Janice Brooke on 07910 342683
